Where every thought has meaning...

Author HAZEL MILLS knew that she wanted to be a writer from the moment she penned the first words of a poem titled “A Tree” when she was in the third grade. Even though she majored in business at the University of Alabama, writing continued to be her first love.

Hazel’s short erotic fiction can be seen in Playgirl magazine’s Erotic Encounters (January 2007 issue) and in Best Lesbian Love Stories: New York City, edited by Simone Thorne. Hazel also has an essay published in Jolie Dupre’s series in The Blushing Ladies Journal. PassionScape is her monthly column published online by EDC Creations and Sankofa Literary Society. She lives in the Birmingham area with her husband and children.

PRAISE FOR HAZEL MILLS..

“Bare Necessities by Hazel Mills is a diverse, though spare volume of erotic short stories. Her stories run the gamut from same-sex female trysts to two poems, See Me, and Six-to-Nine. Her poetic flow is sensual more than erotic and shows that she has as many skills writing poetry as she does in writing short erotic fiction.

— By Angelia Menchan “acvermen.blogspot.com” (Florida)

“Ms. Mills has done a good job of penning mini-sexual excursions that happen in the lives of everyday people looking for a sensual experience. However, I would have loved for the stories to be a bit longer in length. I recommend Bare Necessities to all readers who enjoy erotica in short story form, laced with a couple of excellent poems.”

— Angelia Menchan, APOOO BookClub

“Hazel Mills has compiled a collection of short stories and beautiful poetry that flowed from her pen to your G-spot! From the first story to the last, I enjoyed every piece in this collection. It’s hard to name favorites as each piece was so well written. I read the last story, VIBES, first and it really convinced me to read every sexy, stimulating piece. And I absolutely love the poems, SEE ME and SIX TO NINE. I recommend this book and I anxiously await more from this new voice in erotica. Well done, Hazel Mills! Well done!”

— Southern Girl “Reading Is What I Love!” (South Georgia)

“I finish this book in three hours because I couldn’t put it down. I really enjoyed the read of each story that Hazel wrote and I love the poems. This author has talent and I highly recommend this book for all adults.”

— Claudia Brown-Mosley, Author

“If you are looking to add a little spice to your day, this is the book for you. The stories are well written and the characters are very interesting. I loved the erotic poems that are included. The book is small but still packs a lot of heat.”

Where every thought has meaning...

Whether newly discovered or rekindled, there is no feeling in the world like pure passion coursing through our veins. It erupts at our core and allows us to be free and uninhibited. Bare Necessities: Sensuous Tales of Passion is a collection of short erotic stories that explore passions that are buried deep in the subconscious as well as those that lie just beneath the surface and are easily exposed. The characters of each sizzling story experience passions that explode and send them hurling into a fiery universe of sensuous pleasure.
